Security

Formatta's e-forms technology incorporates unique features to address a number of significant security issues and provides unparalleled levels of security to both form authors and end users.

Formatta is the only e-forms company to include built-in 128-bit encryption in all of our products including our free Formatta Filler application. In addition to encryption, support for electronic signing of e-forms is available.

Key security features include:

- Formatta Encryption: protects end user data across the Internet
- Form Lock: protects forms and data from hackers
- Form Data Signing: digitally signs and locks completed e-forms
- Secure Passwords: end users never need to share their passwords

Advanced Electronic Signing Support

Formatta solutions support advanced features such as multiple electronic signatures on your e-forms for approvals and remote document signing that can utilize existing user ID/PIN authentication systems like LDAP and Active Directory.

Ease of Use

Users shouldn't need to learn a new software application in order to fill out electronic forms. A familiar browser-like user interface eliminates the need for expensive training and improves productivity. Formatta e-forms provide extensive help facilities including Bubble-tips to provide user instructions for filling out a form as well as sophisticated action buttons to control form operations and encryption. Additionally, Formatta e-forms are Section 508 compliant for sight-impaired users.

Legally Binding E-forms

In order for an e-form to be legally binding, both the data (what the user entered) and the presentation (the questions on the form and how they were displayed) must be bound together and tamper evident. Formatta Filler saves the form along with the data and signature if electronically signed, ensuring the structure, reliability and integrity of the document.
